200 STRIKERS BATTLE COPS

SERIES MUSKETEERS. They were sent back home today, the above three World's Series musketeers, who hitch-hiked their way here to see the games. They were picked up by police, who let them listen to the plays over the radio. They are (left to right) Stanley Belaus of Pittston, Pa.; Edward Hooper of Detroit, Mich., and Daniel Potter of Kingston, Pa.

GOING! GOING! GONE! That will be tune of auctioneer's hammer in disposing of furniture of Mme. Margaret Matzenauer (inset), Metropolitan Opera prima donna, who filed petition in bankruptcy listing debts of $48,410 and no assets. Everything in her apartment at 1 West 70th St. has been attached, including furniture shown above. (Photo Graphic.)

FIRED ON IN RIOT. Acting Police Capt. John Broderick (right) narrowly missed death today when striker fired upon him during riot in which police fought 200 striking window cleaners at 23d Street and 5th Avenue. Bullets missed. Detective Curley is shown examining Broderick's torn coat.
